Support Local Children in Need through New Chamber Program

The Chamber is stepping up to support Hunger Free Northbrook's newest initiative, providing supplemental meals to children in need here in the Village. The weekend meal-pack program, launched at one Northbrook elementary school last fall, is now expanding to multiple schools, and the Chamber has committed to providing 15 packs each month at one location from January through May, 2020.

Almost 400 children in Northbrook schools qualify for free or reduced-cost school lunches. Those subsidies only cover lunches on school days, leaving gaps on weekends and holiday breaks.

Frum to Highlight Village Priorities at State of the Village

State of the Village Address

Wednesday, January 29, 11:45 a.m.

Renaissance Chicago North Shore Hotel

Complimentary for Chamber members*

Chamber members are invited to hear a comprehensive overview of issues facing Northbrook at the upcoming State of the Village Address on January 29. Village President Sandy Frum will offer her insights on a wide range of Village priorities and challenges, with an emphasis on topics affecting the business community. In addition, Village staff will be on hand to share their expertise in casual conversation.

In this year's State of the Village speech, President Frum will discuss topics that the Trustees have set as top priorities, including affordable housing, infrastructure improvements, communication, and sustainability efforts like the new plastic bag recycling and share-a-bag programs. She also will review the status of major development proposals, and address the impact of the upcoming 2020 Census, the new recreational cannabis legislation, and other changes. Village finances are also a perennial topic of interest.

President Frum currently is serving her third term as Village President, a position she has held since 2009. A resident of Northbrook for over 40 years, she began her career in public service when she was elected to the Park District Board in 1981, followed by years of experience with the Plan Commission. She was elected to the Village Board in 1987, and chaired the Board's Administration and Finance Committee for 16 years before her election as Village President. She is active in Northbrook Rotary, and served as President of the Northwest Municipal Conference in 2014/15.

Chamber members are strongly encouraged to participate in this unique opportunity to hear from the top leadership of our Village. There will be ample opportunities for questions and answers during the informative lunch.

As part of its ongoing advocacy efforts, the Chamber offers one complimentary admission per member business with advance registration by January 24. Additional advance registrations are $30. Guests or members at the door are $35. To make a reservation, call the Chamber at (847)513-6361 or return the enclosed sign up sheet.*

Annual Meeting & Awards Dinner Set for March 2

Message from Board Chair Bob Caldwell

I can hardly believe that it's been a year since I became the chairman of the Chamber's Board of Directors. 2019 went by in a flash, filled with engaging programs, productive meetings, and great c o n v e r s a t i o n s . I have welcomed the opportunity to make new connections with members, and take pride in the quality of events and services created by the hard work of our leaders, volunteers, and staff.

I've learned a lot about what makes the Chamber thrive in the past year, and it makes me enthusiastic about what's to come in 2020. The foundation of the Chamber's strength is the high level of participation among our members. That participation takes many forms, as you would expect in a diverse organization of over 700 businesses. For some members, it means attendance at networking events, becoming a familiar face to welcome newcomers and veterans alike. Many of our "regulars" dedicate their time and energy as volunteers on committees.

For others, participation means sponsorship of the Chamber's programs and initiatives, from Chamber fundraisers like the Golf Outing and the Auction & Taste to community outreach like the meal packing event. These events could not exist without the generous support of our member businesses.

Whatever the nature of your participation, I want you to know that it is very much appreciated. The Chamber, at its heart, is a member-driven organization, and the ideas and efforts you bring to the Chamber fuel innovations that enhance our services. I'd like to highlight some of the new initiatives that were launched in 2019 and how members will shape their continued evolution in the new year.

For example, the Chamber's programming reflects the needs of members, and your input helps keep events relevant and meaningful. Last year, we added a peer-to-peer networking group for lawyers at the suggestion of a member. Like the Small Office/Home Office and Women in Business lunches, the lawyers' group addresses the interests of a specific segment of our membership, complementing the events that bring the full spectrum of the Chamber together. In 2020, we hope to continue to plan new opportunities to connect industry-specific peers. We welcome your suggestions and participation in making that happen.

Collaboration with other organizations has also enhanced our offerings, and will continue to do so in the new year. The Chamber has enjoyed a longstanding partnership with the Village to promote local shopping. That teamwork led to a highly successful new mobile text marketing program last year, as well as growing support for the Northbrook Shopping Elf Facebook page. This year, we are working with the Northbrook Public Library to develop business-oriented technology education programs. By facilitating connections between members and community resources, the Chamber delivers added benefits to meet the needs of local businesses.

Looking ahead, I can foresee a number of areas where your fresh ideas and enthusiasm will be essential. Some of our longstanding traditions will take a different direction this year; in particular, there will be changes to the annual Golf Outing while Sportsman's Country Club is under renovation. In addition, we are inviting members to become actively involved with Hunger Free Northbrook's new meal-pack initiative for local students in need (see pg. 1 for details).

When making your New Year's Resolutions, I hope you'll add increased Chamber participation to your goals. Whatever your interests and schedule, there's a way to get involved that will benefit both you and the organization! I welcome you to contact me any time to share your ideas or ask questions. Let's make 2020 a year to remember.

Reminder: Renew Your Membership for 2020

Invoices for 2020 membership renewals were mailed in November. Thank you to all the members who have responded! If you have not received your invoice, have questions regarding it or would like a review of your membership benefits, please call Membership Director Kathi Quinn at (847)513-6004 or email kathi@northbrookchamber.org. As a convenience, the Chamber accepts VISA or MasterCard payments over the phone. You may also log onto the Chamber's website, northbrookchamber.org, and make a payment.

Claim Company Reopens on Skokie Blvd.

Fans of the Motherlode Burger celebrated the reopening of The Claim Company at its new location at 760 Skokie Boulevard, near Mariano's supermarket. The longtime Northbrook favorite opened on November 26, after leaving Northbrook Court at the end of the summer. The new restaurant offers substantially the same menu as its previous incarnation, in a more intimate space.

"We are now 3500 square feet versus 9100 square feet, and have a maximum seating of 110," notes owner Arnie Krause. "Downsizing has been tricky, but it has turned out great and we have a nice cozy place now compared to the enormous footprint we had."

The new restaurant retains some familiar design elements, including the friendly wooden cowboy greeting guests at the door. The menu is the same as well, with the main focus continuing to be the famous Motherlode burger and the enormous salad bar. Patrons can opt to have the salad bar as a side with a meal, or as an unlimited self-serve entree. The restaurant also offers a full bar, carryout, and catering. Delivery will be available through DoorDash, Grubhub, and Uber Eats. For information, visit TheClaimCompany.com or call (847) 291-9111.

Policies, Proposals to Fill Plan Commission Agenda in 2020

The Northbrook Plan Commission will address a number of possible zoning policy changes as well as significant development proposals in 2020, according to a preview recently presented by Village Director of Development and Planning Services Tom Poupard.

Affordable housing policies have been the subject of Committee of the Whole workshops by the Trustees in the fall of 2019, with the goal of clarifying the Board's preferred strategies for the Village staff and Plan Commission to put into writing. Poupard indicated to the Plan Commission that some amendments to the zoning code are likely to be an important part of an overall Village policy. Other zoning changes may become relevant for downtown development initiatives and sustainability goals. These broad policy areas have been the subject of studies by Village commissions and outside consultants, and various recommendations may be pursued in the coming months.

Poupard also referred to some major private development projects that may come before the Plan Commission and Village Board in 2020. A large parcel at the northwest corner of Willow and Pfingsten Roads may be the subject of an as-yet-undefined proposal from GW Properties, a developer currently pursuing a commercial project on the Glenview side of Willow Road at the same intersection. Additionally, plans are in the pipeline for two different 7-11 gas stations with convenience stores, replacing the Mobil station at Waukegan and Shermer Roads and the Marathon station at Shermer and Techny. Finally, Poupard noted that the owners of the 127-acre former Green Acres Country Club site are expected to return with a revised proposal, replacing their 800-unit residential plan that was roundly criticized at a recent Village Trustee meeting.

Reminder: Sip-and-Shop Events Require Licenses!

During the holiday shopping season, some local stores announced "sip-and-shop" events where customers were treated to wine and snacks while they browsed. The Village reminds businesses that any promotional activity where alcohol is offered to the public must follow certain guidelines and be properly licensed. Last summer, the Board of Trustees adopted several new categories of liquor licenses specifically designed to create opportunities for businesses to lawfully offer alcohol at events. Please contact the Village Clerk at (847) 664-4013 for answers to questions and assistance with your license application.

Macy's Demolition Marks Start of Northbrook Court Transformation

While holiday shoppers buzzed around the interior of Northbrook Court in December, the first steps of demolition began at the western end of the building to make way for planned redevelopment. Demolition permits were issued by the Village of Northbrook on December 3, and work inside and around the former Macy's building has laid the way for taking down the structure.

In what Tom Poupard, Village Director of Development and Planning Services, described as a "surgical approach," the demolition process has been planned in order to minimize the impact on interior mall spaces.

Approved by the Board of Trustees in June 2019, the proposed redevelopment project is expected to include a 300+ unit apartment complex, an open lawn surrounded by new restaurants, a new supermarket, and a refresh of the rest of the existing mall's interior.

"We are excited to be taking the first physical steps towards the transformation of Northbrook Court," comments Brian Lee, Northbrook Court General Manager. "Though the building process will take some time, we know the result will be a unique destination that residents and visitors will love. In the meantime, Northbrook Court will remain open throughout construction to meet the shopping, dining and entertainment needs of our community."

lunch food available to children whose parents opt in. Organizations like the Chamber recruit volunteers who purchase a set list of non-perishable items, packed in a doubled paper grocery bag. Bags will be dropped off at the Chamber, which will then transport all the bags to its partner school for distribution.

“The student food pack program is a terrific way for community organizations to partner with Hunger Free Northbrook and our local schools to eliminate food insecurity for children,” says Larry Hewitt, Superintendent of Schools for District 28. “It’s a small commitment of time and money that results in a large impact on a child’s life. This outreach effort works because its foundation is a caring attitude and a heartfelt response to a genuine need.”

The school matched with the Chamber has 15 children signed up for the program. We are looking for members willing to supply one or more bags, either once or on an ongoing basis. Volunteers will be provided with the specific list of items and the dates for drop-off at the Chamber office. Food lists for the program have been carefully designed to include protein, fruit and vegetables, and whole grains. Chamber member and nutritionist, Marcy Kirshenbaum has consulted with HFN to ensure that selections are healthful and shelf-stable. There are two shopping lists, which alternate from month to month to give variety to the children receiving the assistance. Please note that in order to be fair and consistent for all participating children, bags may only contain the specified items and no notes or messages should be included. Glass containers are also not allowed due to the risk of breakage.

Holly Allgauer-Cir and the staff at Hilton Chicago/Northbrook have volunteered to fulfill the bag requests for January. However, members are needed for future months. Complete information and registration is available on the Chamber website, NorthbrookChamber.org. If you have questions, contact Tensley Garris, tensley@northbrookchamber.org. Thank you for your support of this initiative on behalf of children in our community.

Chamber Networking Delivers Unexpected Benefits

New Chamber members sometimes assume that networking events are mainly about connecting with the next potential client or sale. While business development is an obvious goal of successful networking, experienced members know that the connections forged at the Chamber often lead to unexpected payoffs. Thanks to three weeks to find new space, his network at the Chamber led him to a conversation with Peter Balyeat, Korman/Lederer. Peter, in turn, connected Howard with the owners of Home Court Advantage, a supplier of flooring for athletic venues. They had excess square footage to rent in their office, and Howard was able to move his administrative team there without a break in his stride.

The synergies continued when Howard saw the full-scale basketball court used as a product showroom by Home Court Advantage. With his expertise and connections to the Northbrook business community, Howard saw the potential for creative uses of the court that could benefit both parties. The Chamber will get to experience the unique space at a Business After Hours hosted by A-Z in February.

“This is really the magic of networking,” says Howard. “On my own, I never would have been able to connect point A to points D, E, and F. The network goes out like bicycle spokes and brings it together.”

In January, the Women in Business Networking Lunch features presentations from two women in positions of authority in the manufacturing industry. Their personal journeys encompass the challenges of maintaining large family-owned businesses, and offer a multi-generational view of women's experiences in manufacturing.

Lorelei Rosenthal is President of Rosenthal Manufacturing, a third-generation family business based in Northbrook. At its 50,000 square foot facility on Janke Drive, the company designs and manufactures equipment for converting rolled material into sheets for the automotive, medical, aerospace, and electronics industries among others. The company's machine products are custom-configured to meet their clients' needs and are used in over 5,000 installations worldwide.

Kelli Heinz has worked at Bell Flavors & Fragrances since starting out as an intern in the marketing department in 2006. Founded in 1912, Bell was acquired in 1968 by the Heinz family and now develops creative flavors and fragrances for food, beverage, cosmetic, household care, personal care, oral care, and tobacco companies throughout the world. Kelli returned to the company after completing her bachelor's and master's degrees at DePaul University, and now serves as Vice President of Marketing with responsibility for coordinating Bell's global marketing teams. She sits on the Boards of the Women in Flavors & Fragrance Commerce, the Fragrance Creators Association, and the Flavor & Extract Manufacturing Association. She recently graduated from an executive program at Harvard Business School.
